

Violent Wind Uproots Trees In Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent windstorms and lightning bolts left a trail of damaged houses and buildings across Arkansas last night, but no injuries were reported.

Lightning flashed out of a thunderstorm at Walnut Ridge and set fire to a sprawling hangar at the Walnut Ridge Air Force Base.

The hangar, used as a warehouse by a trailer company which has an installation at the base, contained two finished trailers and two incomplete ones. A Civil Air Patrol plane also was stored there.

Everything in the hangar and the wood-and-concrete structure itself was destroyed.

Wind wrecked a house where Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beasley were asleep several miles north of Conway, but the couple escaped without injury.

A big chimney came tumbling down when the storm struck.

Downpours and spectacular lightning displays accompanied shrieking winds in many other sections of Arkansas during the night.

Lightning tore holes in a two-family house at Little Rock. Roaring winds damaged half a dozen houses in the city's Cloverdale addition.

Portions of the state were under severe weather alerts which included the possibility of tornadoes. But no twisters were reported. The U.S. Weather Bureau said. The alerts expired early today.

A strong wind howled into the Remmel community 10 miles east of Newport and destroyed the home of John Goldman. The blast heavily damaged a house occupied by the family of Ross Peit, a cotton gin and weight house, and blew part of the roof off the only store at Remmel. Damage to the gin buildings was estimated at $10,000.

Three light planes belonging to visitors were damaged by winds that slashed across the Hot Springs Municipal Airport. Monetary loss was estimated at around $6,500 or more.

Rainfall was heavy. It ranged from more than three inches at Walnut Ridge in north Arkansas to about half an inch in the southern part of the state.

Arkansas Power & Light Co. headquarters at Little Rock said scattered blackouts occurred but there was no major interruption of service. Most of the damage to utility lines was caused by trees falling across poles.

Telephone service was interrupted in central Arkansas. A spokesman for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said 600 telephones were out in Little Rock, 400 in Hot Springs and there was scattered service interruption at Benton, Malvern and Arkadelphia.

The spokesman estimated the winds damaged telephone lines in the town of $7,500.

Winds knocked down a fence around a baseball park at Walnut Ridge.

Traffic was blocked temporarily when uprooted trees fell across highways at several points in northeast Arkansas. One tree blocked Highway 25 between Paragould and Walnut Ridge for awhile.

Power lines were tossed across Highway 37 about three miles east of Hickman but repairs were made quickly.

A large ramp at the Hot Springs air field was blown over a low fence and smashed a window in the administration building. Scaffolding for a new control tower now under construction collapsed, and there was slight damage to the roof of a hangar.

Lake Carlton, whose house was damaged at the Cloverdale addition south of Little Rock, told of hearing a "loud thump" just before winds tore away part of his roof.

Another Cloverdale resident said he believed the storm was a tornado, but the Weather Bureau discounted this.

Blind Runaways Hitch 200 Miles

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Supl. J. M. Wally of the Arkansas School for the Blind wasn't surprised when two nearly blind teen-aged runaways turned up some 200 miles away at Huntsville, Ark.

That's where he'd expected them to go. One boy is from there.

Wally said the boys, aged 13 and 14, could see at 20 feet what a person with normal vision could see at about 200 feet. But, he said, "We try to develop total complete independence."

He added that such independence wasn't intended for running away, however.

Hardin Plans to Start Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe C. Hardin returns to Little Rock to get his campaign for governor under way.

Hardin said he is confident of victory in the race with three others against Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who is seeking a fourth term.

"I'm going to win this one," he said.

Hardin said he plans to make the fourth term an issue in the campaign.

He said he believes long tenures lead to concentration of power and concentration of power results in deterioration of government and the people's interest.

He said he hopes to locate space for his campaign headquarters in Little Rock in the next few days.

Hardin came here for the annual U.S. Chamber of Commerce meeting.

While here, Hardin said R. C. Huie, Arkadelphia attorney and longtime friend, would be his campaign manager.

Violent Winds Rip Five States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent weather ripped across areas in south central sections of the country Wednesday night and today, causing extensive property damage and injuring more than 20 persons.

Tornado winds, heavy rain and hail pounded areas in Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and Kansas. Heaviest damage and highest injury toll appeared to be in north central Texas and the southern half of Oklahoma.

Hardest hit in Oklahoma were Oil Center, a town of about 100 near Ada, and Soper, a community of about 300 in the south central part of the state. More than a score of homes were destroyed or damaged in the two towns.

Wind gusts up to 85 m.p.h. hammered Oklahoma City, while a twister injured three persons at Lawton.

Twelve persons were injured in the Oklahoma storms and at least 12 suffered injuries in a tornado which hit Lake Worth, north of Fort Worth, Tex.

Other twisters struck rural areas near Urbana, Mo., and Ness City in western Kansas. No injuries were reported.

Thunderstorms rumbled across areas from the northwest corner of Kansas southward to the mouth of the Mississippi River. Heaviest rain was nearly six inches in Burwood, La., most of which fell in about two hours.

Would Trade Bike For a Few Votes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "I'll trade it for votes," quipped Gov. Orval E. Faubus — a candidate for fourth term — as he received a brand new bicycle yesterday in connection with proclamation of May as Bicycle Month.

Faubus said he never learned to ride a bike because the hills were too steep in his native Madison County. He said the bicycle, presented by AMF Cycle Co.'s Little Rock plant, would be given to a deserving child.

Mateos Is Shot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Jose Almona Mateos, who claims to have been a secretary to Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, was shot Wednesday by gunmen he charged were hired by the Dominican Republic's dictator.

Almona, 57, said a car ran him down as he was on his way to work and a gunman climbed out and pumped five bullets into him. Then the gunmen drove away. Almona was in a critical condition.

Negro Reports Beating in P. B. School Case

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A Negro man reported he was beaten today by white men after taking two Negro children to register at an all-white school, whose board is considering integration.

The man, identified as Ivey Anderson of Pine Bluff, told George Howard, an attorney for Negro plaintiffs in the pending Dollarway integration suit that he was "worked over by some white men."

Howard said Anderson told him he would not be able to return to the white Dollarway School to pick up Linda Diane Houston and Andrew Howard, the two Negro children, and their companions.

The attorney a Negro said Anderson did not describe the extent of his injuries.

Police said they had no report of such an incident.

There were no incidents at the school itself as the Negroes registered in a room with a group of white children. The registration does not necessarily mean assignment to the school.

Along with the white children, the Negroes were given an intelligence test after they registered. The Dollarway School Board, the defendant in an integration suit in federal court, set registration for all children who plan to enter the first grade next fall for today. The registrants must be six by next Nov. 10.

The board has indicated in a report to the court that if it approves any desegregation it will start at the first grade level.

The Houston girl was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mack Houston. Her father is a Pine Bluff factory employee.

The Howard boy was with a Negro woman who was not identified by school officials. His registration form identified his father as Andrew Howard of Chicago but did not list his mother.

Both children were listed as living in Pine Bluff, but within the Dollarway District, which embraces some territory within the city limits and more outside the limits.

The Dollarway Board has been sued by three Negro teenagers trying to desegregate the Dollarway School.

U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley of Little Rock ruled against their admission to the school this year and approved a board report promising careful study of all first grade assignments. It was this report which indicated any possible integration would start in the first grade.

An attorney for the three Negroes is appealing both rulings to the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

Emerson Workers Against Union

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Employees of Emerson Electric Co. here have voted 311-122 against representation by the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Emerson employees also rejected unionization in an election last year. The new vote, conducted yesterday, was ordered by the National Labor Relations Board on petitions by employees.

Woman Gives Away Her Baby Son

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Dry-eyed and unmoved, Yvonne Moore Wednesday night handed over her unwanted 11-day-old son to the American wife who hopes to adopt him.

"I know you will look after him and love him more than I ever could," she told 33-year-old Gladys Simon of New York, who flew here to collect the baby.

Mrs. Moore, 39, and married 20 years, claims she's too old now to start a family. Her husband, a bus driver, quit his job because of the neighbors' criticism of their desire to get rid of the baby.

British-born Mrs. Simon will stay six months in this country to complete the legal process of adoption.

The baby will be christened Francis after Mrs. Simon's husband.

She was handed the baby in a hotel room shortly after Mrs. Moore had been released from a Brighton maternity hospital.

When she saw Francis curled quietly in his mother's arms Mrs. Simon cried: "I can't believe it's true. I can't believe it."

Khrushchev Claims a U.S. Military Plane Shot Down in Russia

Reds Threaten Retaliation With Rockets

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev told the Soviet Parliament in a blistering speech today that Soviet armed forces have shot down a plane he described as a U. S. military craft. He threatened to retaliate with rockets if American bombers appear over the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Premier's speech cast gloom over prospects for the summit conference opening in 11 days. He issued an unveiled threat to U. S. allies, took a hefty slap at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and charged that President Eisenhower's freedom of movement at the summit is being restricted by "certain U. S. circles."

Khrushchev referred angrily to Eisenhower's suggestion that Nixon might sit in for him at the summit if the President's presence is required in Washington on domestic matters.

Khrushchev said he had met Nixon several times and it was difficult for him not to gain the impression Nixon was the last person to think of stopping the cold war or ending the arms race.

"I am afraid that if Nixon negotiates entitled to carry on negotiations at the summit, it would be, as we say in Russia, like sending a goat to take care of the cabbage," the Soviet Premier said.

The Supreme Soviet U. S. Parliament session burst into a wave of applause as Khrushchev announced the shooting down of an American plane May 1.

(A) single-engine jet U2 research plane has been missing since May 1 after a takeoff in Turkey, Pentagon officials said. It is assumed to have come down near Lake Van, not far from the border of Soviet Armenia.

In this general area a U.S. C130 transport was downed by Soviet forces in 1958. By U. S. reckoning, the Soviets accounted for only 6 of 17 men lost then. The U2, a ship assigned to National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is a flying laboratory assigned to make weather observations and check air for radioactivity.

Mrs. Moore took a final peek at her son and sighed: "I don't know why it is but I no more feel his mother than any woman in the street."

"I never want to see him again — the farther he goes the better it will be. To me he would just be 24 hours work a day."

Soviet Action Dims Summit Talk Hopes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev seems to have come to the conclusion that too much peace can be dangerous both for him and for the Communist world movement.

The Soviet Premier's address to his rubber-stamp Parliament dashes already slim hopes for any real progress at the summit in Paris.

But when the three-hour oration is viewed against the background of a significant shakeup in the Soviet power structure, one gets the impression that Khrushchev had little choice but to pull the rug from under those who invested great hopes in the big-power meeting.

Khrushchev makes much of the shooting down of an American plane — presumed in Washington to be a stray weather observation craft, with one man aboard. There must be more compelling reasons than the surface reasons for Khrushchev to make such an issue of it.

Khrushchev's speech, and developments preceding it, give some hints about the reasons.

His speech was laden with promises for the consumer public. The Soviet income tax is to be abolished by 1965, says Khrushchev, and Soviet workers will have more than seven billion dollars worth of take-home pay by his reckoning.

This and other Khrushchev gestures to his popular following inside the Soviet Union come as old Stalinists in Moscow seem to be making a strong bid for renewed influence. Events connected with the Soviet May Day celebrations clearly indicated this.

Possibly to offset such a process, Khrushchev directed the shakeup of his party and government hierarchy, bringing to the fore leading bureaucrats and technocrats who have come up under his auspices.

The chances are that Khrushchev's foreign policy has been considered reckless by some of the old hands around the Kremlin. And there are signs Khrushchev's policies have been more than a little annoying to his big Chinese ally.

Apparently many in the Chinese Communist party think Khrushchev's recent gestures toward world peace, whatever the hidden aims went too far. Possibly many in the Soviet Communist party have a similar idea.

And Khrushchev, seeing little chance at the summit that the West might back down on any major principle may feel himself required to prepare the stage dramatically for failure in Paris. That failure must blame on the West and particularly the United States.

Khrushchev's basic long-range strategy may not have been brought into question but his short-range tactics may have been challenged. And the Soviet leader perhaps found it necessary to back down.

U.S. Admits a Weather Plane Is Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today Soviet forces may have shot down an unarmed U. S. research plane with an unlicensed pilot rather than a "military craft," as Premier Nikita Khrushchev claimed.

Under instruction from President Eisenhower, the department and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration issued reports on their inquiry into the ascription by Khrushchev that an American plane was shot down over the Soviet Union early Sunday.

"The State Department report said a single-engine, high-altitude jet used in weather research, took off from Adana, Turkey, that day with a civilian pilot and has been missing since. The disappearance of the plane was announced last Tuesday."

Lucille Ball Wins Divorce From Desi

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Lucille Ball, in tears, divorced Desi Arnaz today with testimony that he was a "Jekyll and Hyde" who had made their marriage "a nightmare for the last three years."

The orange-haired comedy star appeared in the Santa Monica Superior Court.

From the moment she took the stand, her usual jaunty air vanished and she began trying to hold back the tears. The couple had been married 20 years.

"My husband would frequently have fits of temper in front of everyone, including the children," Miss Ball testified.

"It got to be so bad that I thought it would be better for us not to be together. These lan-

State to Take 5,950 Laborers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Employment Security Division today established a ceiling of 5,950 as the number of Mexican laborers to be employed for the state's cotton crop this year and announced that contracting will begin next Monday.

"This contracting will fill the labor shortage which appears to be imminent in the cotton fields of eastern Arkansas," ESD Administrator James L. Bland said.

Local office maximums include: Blytheville 2,075, Forrest City 675, West Memphis 75, Jonesboro 1,050, Newport 100 and Helena 200.

Trucks would happen everywhere. They happened at home, they happened at work; it could be anything that set him off.

"It was a Jekyll and Hyde thing."

"He would do it in front of friends and relatives. We could have no social life for the last three to four years."

Arnaz did not contest the divorce and was not present.

Miss Ball is 40, Arnaz 43. They have two children, Lucy Desiree, 9, and Desi IV, 7.

They met when Desi was a bongo-beating Latin singer and Lucille a starlet. Their marriage was marked by periodic fits.

She won a divorce in 1944, saying arguments made her a "nervous wreck." But they made up and she never obtained her final decree.

Their wealth grew. Desi became a production boss. Ultimately they bought RKO studio and made it a TV production center, with Desi boss.

Corrects Pardon of Innocent Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The 19-year-old pardon of R. G. Moffett, who was wrongfully convicted to start with, is correct now.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus yesterday corrected the pardon issued Dec. 18, 1941, to Moffett by former Gov. Homer M. Adkins. Moffett, convicted in July, 1935, in Benton County and sentenced two years in prison on a charge of being an accessory to burglary and grand larceny, was paroled the next year.

A Faubus aide said the original pardon was issued after later evidence showed Moffett was innocent. But, the aide said, the pardon erroneously substituted a charge of accessory to bank robbery.

Moffett went to court to have this corrected and Faubus acted on the basis of a court order, the aide said.

Russia Building Airstrip in Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former chief of Cuba's military intelligence told Senate investigators today that Soviet technicians are building a gigantic airstrip in a swamp on the southern coast of Cuba.

Col. Manuel Antonio Ugalde Carrillo said the strip is 12 miles long and about 200 yards wide. He said his informants told him the concrete base is so thick it could support any type of plane.

Ugalde, a one-time field commander of the Fulgencio Batista forces defeated by rebel leader Fidel Castro, testified before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee. The group is examining what it termed Communist danger to the United States from the Caribbean.

Ugalde said military missions of experts from the Soviet Union, other Iron Curtain countries and Red China "are now all over the island of Cuba."

DOROTHY DIX

Cinderella Speak Up!

Dear Dorothy Dix: I met a girl while in the Service, who was married and had two children. I was married and had one child. I tried to forget the girl. She divorced her husband. I went back to my wife and had two more children, now pretty well raised.

I missed the other woman so very much. But although I visited her town, never called her. In the intervening years my wife has given me grounds for divorce.

I am now in the other girl's town and here is where I plan to stay. I miss her every second I am away from her, including the 14 years we were separated. I know that for my remaining years could find happiness, companionship and love only with her. Do you agree? — J. L.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I wonder if you or any of your readers know of any association I could apply to for assistance in bringing my mother to Canada for a visit. She is a widow and lives in Australia with my brothers. I haven't seen any of my family for 12 years since arriving in Canada. I married and have four lovely children. With all the expense of bringing them up it seems hopeless for us to be able to save enough to pay her fare. She longs to see her grandchildren. If either you or your readers can be of any help, I shall be most grateful. — D. M. W.

Dear J. L.: It is impossible to give a constructive answer without knowing what's on the other side of the coin. If you really want my advice I must know how your wife and girl friend feel about all this. Have you the courage to ask them to write me?

Dear D. M. W.: The office of the Canadian Consul General in New York City suggests that you write to the Australian High Commissioner in Ottawa, Canada, requesting that he inform you of any groups existing in Canada that might sponsor such a trip.

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Students at Washington and Lee University last night picked Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts as the presidential candidate on the sixth ballot of their mock Democratic convention.

Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas were strong challengers.

Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus was one of several who had been nominated.

Chapter 328 Order of Eastern Star will have its regular meeting Thursday, May 5 at 7:30 in the Masonic Hall. All members are urged to attend.

The Hursey Home Demonstration Club will meet Thursday, May 5 at 1:30 in the home of Mrs. Troy Burson, Highway 67.

Friday, May 6
The World May Fellowship Day will be observed Friday, May 6. Local unit of the United Council of Churchwomen will sponsor a meeting at the First Christian Church at 2 p.m. Theme will be "Citizenship — Free and Responsible." Guest speaker C. V. Nunn Jr. will bring the message "The Churchwoman and Her Political Responsibility." Refreshments will be served following the meeting in the Fellowship Hall.

Monday, May 9
The WMS Royal Service of the First Baptist Church will meet at 2 p.m. Monday, May 9 in Fellowship Hall. The program "Educating Youth in Missions" will be presented by the Martha Harrison Circle with the topic "Missionary Organizations." Mrs. Frank Douglas is chairman of the group presenting the program. Members and visitors are urged to be present. This meeting, usually held the first Monday of each month, was postponed until May 9 due to the observance of Christian Home Week, May 1-8.

Tuesday, May 10
The Hope Division of the Arkansas Practical Nurses Assn. will meet in the Community Room of the First National Bank at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 10. Mrs. Mary Lehman, R.N., will be the guest speaker.

The DeAnn Lilac Garden Club will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday, May 10 in the home of Mrs. C. B. O'Steen with Miss Lillie Clark as co-hostess. Mrs. Truda Coffee will bring a program on "The Greatness of Our Mothers." All members are asked to bring a May Basket for their flower arrangement.

Brownie Troop 14 Meets
On Thursday, April 28 the Brookwood Brownie Troop 14 met at the Little House. The meeting was opened with the singing of the Brownie Smile song, led by Jan Herring who was hostess for the afternoon. She served king size drinks and candy bars at the picnic table under the trees. The following girls joined in repeating the Brownie promise, Pam Butler, Jenny Callicott, Joyce Collier, Linda Goodwin, Jan Herring, Mindy McElroy, Martha Mosley, Teresa Smyth, Donna Stevenson, Jo Susan White and Glanis Wood. The girls then went indoors to work on a new project.

Plans were announced for the girls to take a motor trip to Texarkana next Saturday, May 7th where they will have lunch and then ride the train back to Hope. The girls will be accompanied by their leaders and three committee members. Hostess for the next meeting, May 12, will be Mindy McElroy.

Miss Alene Watson to Wed Eddy Haynes

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Watson of Hope announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Freda Alene, to Robert Eddy Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Haynes all of Prescott. The wedding will be an event of Friday, May 6 at the Southside Missionary Baptist Church at 8 p.m. No cards will be sent.

Miss Cherry Etter Bride-Elect Honored With Party Saturday

Miss Cherry Etter of Washington, bride-elect of Thomas Roberts of North Little Rock, was honored with an informal party at the home of Mrs. J. O. Lick of Washington on Saturday afternoon.

Attractive arrangements of spring flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the house. The honoree and her mother, Mrs. W. H. Etter were presented cymbidium orchid corsages. Miss Mary Margaret Haynes directed bridal games. Guests winning prizes gave them to the honoree. Little Miss Linda Louise Luck presented the hostesses' gift of silver to Miss Etter.

Guests were invited into the dining room where an arrangement of white and pink flowers was flanked by white candles in crystal candelabra. Miss Kathleen Johnson, aunt of the honoree, served individual iced cakes and Mrs. Charles Downs served the pink fruit punch.

Hostesses, in addition to Mrs. Luck were Miss Haynes, Mrs. Herbert Pinegar, Mrs. Horace J. Calhoun, Mrs. James Boyette and Mrs. Moss Rowe.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Kelly Bryant, Miss Betty Bryant, Miss Tina Pilkinton, Mrs. C. C. Stuart, and Mrs. C. M. Walker all of Hope, and Mrs. Eddie Sutton of Blevins.

Delta Kappa Gamma Meets At Home Ec Cottage

When the Delta Kappa Gamma met at the Home Ec Cottage on May 3, senior F. T. A. members and H. S. T. C. practice teachers were guests for a tea. Hostesses were Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, Mrs. Ruth Hanagan and Mrs. Nelle Hinton.

The tea table was covered with a white linen cloth and decorated with red roses and gold ranunculus. The pineapple punch was served by Mrs. B. C. Hyatt. The individual white cakes had "F. T. A." in red on them. Salted nuts were also served.

Members of the Future Teachers of America gave reports on their experiences in teaching in the Hope elementary schools, April 22. Judy Kaye Wright, president of the Irma Dean chapter of F. T. A., summarized their activities for the past year.

Miss Clare McDougald

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. McDougald of Searcy announce the engagement of their daughter, Clare Fern, to Oswald Maurice Haynes son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Haynes of Lubbock, Texas. The wedding will be an event of late August.

Miss McDougald attended the Prescott Schools and the Harding Academy. She is a senior English major at Harding College, Searcy and is taking a double minor, social science and education. Mr. Haynes attended Lubbock public schools, Texas Tech and Lubbock Christian College, is a senior at Harding College, Searcy with a double major, English and Biblical Languages.

Following the tea, new officers of the Alpha Delta chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, were installed by the retiring president, Mrs. Mina Mae Mason.

Mrs. H. O. Kyler honored With "Going Away" Party

Mrs. Harry Shiver and Mrs. F. C. Crow were hostesses for a "going away" party honoring Mrs. H. O. Kyler, Jr., who is moving to Russellville. The party was held on May 4 in the Shiver home, which held lovely arrangements of roses and of Dutch lilies.

Twelve ladies enjoyed an afternoon of pleasant conversation. They were served delicious meringue kisses topped with ice cream and strawberries and salted nuts for refreshments.

Coming and Going

The Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Montgomery left Thursday for Corona, Calif., to visit their son James.

Mrs. Bobby Franklin and two sons of Huntsville, Ala., are visiting Mrs. R. D. Franklin and will be joined by their husband and father this weekend.

Court to Decide

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Juvenile court decides today what to do with Lana Turner's troubled 16-year-old daughter.

Cheryl Crane, who two years ago fatally stabbed her actress mother's hoodlum lover, ran away from a county home for girls last Friday. She and two others surrendered Monday to Cheryl's father, Steven Crane. They said they had stayed at the home of a friend.

Inflation Blamed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - The famous Moulin Rouge nightclub near Sunset and Vine is going straight. Owner Frank Sennes is turning the joint into a legitimate theater.

Why? Inflation, Sennes explained Tuesday.

"An average couple today can't enjoy a night out for less than $30—and how many millionaires are there?" Sennes said. "The only time I show a profit is when I can book big names like Louis Prima, Keely Smith and Red Skelton—and I can't get them year round."

Really Was Guess

CABOT, Ark. (AP) - The woman census taker had called at three houses where the family name was Ray.

At the next house, she introduced herself and asked the man at the door for his name.

"Guess."

"Well, said the census taker, "I suppose if I had to guess I'd say the name was 'Ray'."

"No, no," he explained, "My name is Guess."

Unlimited Medical Deduction Now

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate has passed a bill to remove the limit on medical expenses that a taxpayer may deduct for his mother and father and his wife's mother and father.

The present income tax law permits a taxpayer to deduct only medical expenses which exceed 3 percent of his gross income until he reaches 65 when the limit is removed.

The measure, passed Wednesday, now goes to the House.

Ike's Gift Arrives

LONDON (AP) - President Eisenhower's personal wedding gift to Princess Margaret and Anthony Armstrong-Jones arrived by diplomatic pouch today but the U.S. Embassy refused to say what it was.

Derrick Falls

NORFOLK, Ark. (AP) - An 85-foot oil well derrick fell yesterday, injuring two workmen.

In serious condition with several cuts, a broken arm and a crushed shoulder was Louis L. Harrison, about 45 of Smackover. James McDonald, about 45, of Magnolia, received arm injuries and cuts.

The two men were working with a crew cementing an oil well when the derrick collapsed. It was not determined what caused the collapse.

Both men were hospitalized in

Candidates Debate on Television

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) met head-on in a television debate last Wednesday night at Charleston, W. Va.

The two rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination produced no sparks, no fireworks. The tone was mild and unbiting.

Humphrey did take issue with a constant Kennedy refrain—that Humphrey has no chance to be nominated and a vote for him in West Virginia's May 10 Primary is wasted.

Asked if he thought he had a chance, Humphrey said: "I most surely do."

He added "No Democrat has this nomination tied up. If you have 200 (convention) votes you're just as much alive politically as the man with 600 votes."

The debate was televised over a state network, but was seen in some out-of-state cities.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, unopposed for the Republican presidential nomination, had kind words in New York Wednesday for the man who bowed out of the race against him—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Nixon told a news conference Rockefeller has "tremendous support throughout the country for national office among the Republicans."

But he begged off on any direct expression that he wants Rockefeller for his running mate and put it up to the governor.

In Albany Rockefeller repeated that he won't accept the second place spot.

There have been reports that Nixon would like to have Rockefeller on the ticket. Nixon's statement Wednesday was viewed in some quarters as an attempt to make sure no one would put the blame at his door if Rockefeller continues adamant about refusing the vice presidential nomination.

Footnotes on Tuesday's primaries:

District of Columbia: Complete unofficial returns in the presidential popularity poll: Humphrey 7-831, Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) 5,866. The only non-Humphrey delegate candidate to win a convention seat was a Morse delegate.

Humphrey is assured of all nine D.C. convention votes because of a unit rule.

Indiana: On nearly complete returns, Nixon's plurality over Kennedy in the respective GOP and Democratic primaries was more than 50,000 votes. Nixon had 400-291 to Kennedy's 150,190, but the Democratic party outpulled the Republican total 433,957 to 418,039. Leaders of both parties claimed sustenance and cheer from the results.

Alabama: States Rights candidates for presidential election, pledged to bolt the Democratic party if it picks a nominee they disapprove, apparently held firm control over a portion of the state's votes in the electoral college. Three States Rights clearly won on the basis of incomplete returns. All but one of the remaining eight candidates in the top 11 were States Righters. If the trend continues those eight would get another chance in a May 31 runoff election against party Loyalist candidates.

Attress Asks Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) - Actress model Suzy Parker will divorce Pierre de la Salle, her husband of five years. Her attorney says the split was caused by career trouble.

De La Salle is a representative of Paris Match magazine.

The couple have a 4-month-old daughter.

Yankees Find Beating Lary All They Need

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees now have proof of something they've suspected for some time—it would be a lot easier to sail into first place in the American League if they could do something about shaking loose from the Detroit Tigers and Frank Lary.

They did just that Wednesday, beating Lary for only the second time in two years with a 4-2 decision that gave them a half-game lead over Chicago's White Sox. Baltimore dropped the Sox to second by beating the defending champs 6-1 Wednesday night.

Washington barred Cleveland from a second place by a 7-6 victory over the Indians. The Kansas City As beat Boston 5-3 and jumped free of the cellar as Detroit plunked in with an eighth straight loss.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates lost their second in a row, 5-1 to the Chicago Cubs, but retained a one-game lead over second place San Francisco. Cal McLish, a 19-game winner for Cleveland last season, won his first for Cincinnati, beating the Giants 3-2 with a four-hitter. Milwaukee defeated Los Angeles 2-1 on Del Crandall's ninth inning home run and Bob Buhl's three-hit pitching. St. Louis got past Philadelphia 5-3.

A sixth pitching job by rookie Bill Short (2-1) and Elston Howard's tworn homer in the sixth inning made it two in a row over Detroit for the Yankees. Howard, nursing a sore hand, entered the game when catcher Yogi Berra was tossed out by plate umpire John Flaherty for disputing a call in the fourth inning.

Lary (1-2) gave up six hits while losing for the seventh time in 20 career decisions against New York. He was out of the last 15.

The Orioles rapped the White Sox with a four-run seventh inning capped by Brooks Robinson's two-run single after Al Smith's error had enabled the Birds to tie it 4-4. Frank Baumann (1-1) was the loser in relief of Early Wynn.

Hoyt Wilhelm (1-1) was the winner. Jim Lemon drove in Washington's last four runs, bringing the Senators from behind with a two-run homer in the seventh for their eighth straight one-run decision and 12th in their 14 games.

Hal Woodeshick (1-0) was the winner in relief. Hal Briggs (1-1) lost it in relief.

The As, winning on the road for the first time in eight tries, broke a shutout duel between winner Dick Hall (2-0) and Tom Brewer (0-2) with three runs in the fifth.

Fullerton Quits UA Football Team

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Bruce Fullerton, former Little Rock Central High School football star, has quit the Arkansas football squad.

Fullerton said yesterday he needed more time for his studies. He is majoring in accounting and said he is considering entering law school. He resigned his football scholarship.

Fullerton said his decision was not influenced by his drop from the second to the fourth unit Monday. A junior next year, he played his only three Parker games last fall.

Coach Frank Broyles drilled the rest of his squad in preparation for Saturday's Red-White intrasquad game. Broyles, who said the gridirers were hitting harder yesterday, predicted a better scrimmage Saturday than the workout last weekend which was marred by fumbles.

He also forecast more passing Saturday. The Red-White game will be broadcast by 26 Razorback Network stations.

Boudreau Takes Over Chicago Cubs

By JAN HARTNETT

CHICAGO (AP)—In an unprecedented baseball switch, former American League pilot Lou Boudreau today took over from Charlie Grimm as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

In effect Boudreau handed a radio microphone to 62-year-old Grimm in exchange for manager-ship of the wobbly Cubs after typically abrupt decision by Cub owner P. K. Wrigley Wednesday.

The unpredictable Wrigley, who on three separate occasions had named Grimm as Cub boss, decided he didn't want to see jolly Cholly "take a beating" and named Boudreau, 42, manager as "just plain common sense."

Boudreau former star shortstop and manager of the Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox and Kansas City As look over direction of the Cubs shortly after the Chicagoans posted a 5-1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Boudreau has been a commentator on Cub games for the past two seasons. He supplemented the play-by-play by Jack Quinlan on WGN.

Now, the pride of suburban Harvey, Ill.—an athletic legend on the University of Illinois campus—can translate into action some of the ideas which he said have been going through his mind in the broadcasting booth.

Boudreau, who was replaced by Harry Craft as manager of the Kansas City As in 1957, said it was a good feeling to get back into uniform again, but in particular the uniform of the Chicago Cubs.

Boudreau was to meet with the players and Grimm today.

Palmer Gets Nod to Win U.S. Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Eleven past winners and titleholders from four other nations are in the record field of 2,480 seeking the 60th U. S. Open golf championship this year.

Arnold Palmer, Masters champion and king of the rugged pro tour, also is in the list which includes British Open champion Gary Player of South Africa, International Trophy winner Stan Leonard of Canada, South African champion Dennis Hutchinson, and the Canada Cup titleholders, Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle of Australia.

The U.S. Golf Assn., announcing the close of the entry list Wednesday night, said the field includes virtually every top name in the sport.

A double round of 36-hole trials will reduce the record entry to a compact 150, who will go to the tee at the Cherry Hills Country Club in Denver, Colo., June 16-18.

Most of the top contenders will be allowed to skip the first of these eliminations—local qualifying tests in 59 cities May 23 and 24. All except a select 21 must take their chances in the sectional trials slated in four centers June 16 and in eight others June 7.

Topping the exempt list is Bill Casper Jr., from Happy Valley, Calif., who won the title last year at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y. He gets free entry into the tournament proper along with three of the five past champions—Tommy Bolt, Cary Middlecoff and Jack Fleck—plus invited outside champions and players who finished in the top ten or tied for at least tenth in the 1959 event.

Thompson to Yols

ATLANTA (AP)—Donald Thompson, a 6-foot-2, 180-pound left-hander, has been assigned to Atlanta of the Southern Assn. He had started the season with Richmond of the International League.

He won 17 and lost 9 for Birmingham of the Class A Eastern League last year.

An Earth Tremor Shakes Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—An earth tremor struck Pine Bluff today, and residents said small objects were shaken. No injuries or property losses were reported.

Arkansas in Fayetteville recorded a tremor in the Pine Bluff area.

Tom Mooney, seismograph observer at the university, said it was not possible to fix the extent of the tremor or the intensity.

Mrs. Harold W. Gutter, operator of a liquor store, said bottles on the shelves in her establishment shook and the building itself quivered.

Emmett to Hold Benefit Game

Boys of the freshman class of Emmett will play a basketball game, dressed as girls, against the women of Emmett on Thursday, April 5 at 8 p.m. in the Emmett gymnasium. Admission is 15 cents for everyone. There will be games and cold drinks after the contest.

Dodgers Find Buhl as Tough as Last Year

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers now have found Bob Buhl to be just as tough as ever.

The bushy haired right hander pitched Milwaukee's Braves to a 2-1 victory with a threehitter at Los Angeles Wednesday night, beating the Dodgers for the fourth time in a row as Del Crandall singled home a run in the second inning and then homered in the ninth.

It was the Dodgers' ninth defeat in their last dozen games and their fourth straight, dropping the fifth place champs two games below .500.

Pittsburgh retained a one-game lead, although the Chicago Cubs—unaware they were playing their final game under manager Charlie Grimm—defeat the Pirates a second consecutive defeat, 5-1. Second place San Francisco blew a chance for a first place tie, losing 3-2 to Cincinnati as Cal McLish won his first with a four-hitter. Fourth place St. Louis made it nine out of 11 by beating Philadelphia 5-3.

In the American League, the New York Yankees jumped into a half-game lead by beating Detroit 4-2, plunking the Tigers into the cellar with their eighth straight defeat. Baltimore dropped Chicago's White Sox to second place, 6-4; Washington beat Cleveland 7-6, and the Kansas City As ended their slump at five with a 5-3 decision at Boston.

Buhl (2-1) had to duel Don Drysdale all the way for this one. Drysdale (3-3) gave up eight hits while going the distance for the fifth time in six starts.

The Cubs handed three-time winner Bob Friend his first loss on the five-hit pitching of Dick Ellsworth, a $70,000 bonus lefty in 1958. Ellsworth, recalled from Houston Tuesday, walked none and struck out four for his first major league victory.

After the game, Lou Boudreau, who skipped three American League clubs before becoming an announcer for Cub games, swapped jobs with Grimm, who lasted just 17 games in his third tour as a brain manager.

McLish (1-2), the right-hander who became an ace in the AL after only an 8-21 record in the National League, blanked the Giants on one hit after Willie Kirkland's solo home run in the fourth inning. The Reds beat Jack Sanford (2-1) with Roy McMillan's two-out single in the sixth.

The Cards managed two runs but only three hits in seven innings against John Buzhardt, then scored three unearned runs in the eighth for the winless right-hander's third defeat. Joe Cunningham's tworn single was the winning hit, giving the decision to reliever Marshall Bridges (2-0).

Los Angeles Mayor Won't Run Again

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Norris Poulson, 64, whose two terms as mayor of this sprawling metropolis are best known for Khrushchev and baseball, won't run for re-election.

"I am grateful that I have my health and I want to keep it," said Poulson in making the announcement Tuesday night.

Beyond the burgeoning limits of Los Angeles, Poulson is perhaps best known for two things: He laid off Khrushchev to his face and he played a major role in bringing major league baseball west.

Poulson's after-dinner speaking almost gave the Soviet Union's visiting Khrushchev a severe case of indigestion last fall. Khrushchev took exception to Poulson's reference to the Soviet leader's celebrated "We shall bury you" quote. Khrushchev, his pleasant peasant face redder than the Kremlin flag, threatened to peg up and go home. But he calmed down after a bitter anti-Poulson tirade.

Later, the Soviet leader said he mayor "does not shine by his intelligence."

Poulson said in rebuttal that "there is no statement of principle in his remarks to Khrushchev" with which any good American citizen can find fault.

Poulson spearheaded a civic group that made a safari to Florida and lured Walter O'Malley and his then Brooklyn Dodgers to be money-green fields at Monogram Coliseum.

Poulson said he plans to live in Los Angeles after his term as mayor ends in June 1961. The former Republican congressman said he will go back to his first love—the life of a certified public accountant.

Movie Making Costs Placed Too High

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's time to come to grips with this matter of movie costs.

Remember the days when big movies used to be advertised as million-dollar productions? Such films would be considered quickies nowadays — or so the publicity would have us believe.

The current product is filled with movies that are supposed to have cost 4, 5 or 6 million dollars. Cars are touted as high as $9 ("Spartacus") and $15 ("Ben-Hur"). But do they run that high?

When I visited "The Alamo" location at Brackettville, Tex., producer-director John Wayne told me the film would cost 5½ millions to shoot. His salary and other deferments would bring the total to 7 millions, he said, and advertising, distribution and other charges would bring the total to 11 million.

Wayne is too big and tough a guy to argue with, but that seemed like a lot of money to me. An associate who worked on the project until he feuded with Wayne now declares "The Alamo" actually cost 2 million.

"Can-Can" is advertised as a 6-million-dollar extravaganza. Could it really be that extravagant? There is only one big exterior—a

Actor Is Divorced

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Cameron Mitchell's marriage of nearly 20 years has ended in divorce.

Mrs. Johanna Mitchell, 43, was granted a divorce Tuesday after testifying.

"After I was granted a separate maintenance decree Feb. 13, 1959, Mr. Mitchell and a lady began living right across the street in plain view of the neighbors and our children."

standing set at 20th Century Fox. The musical numbers are staged in one cafe set.

The cast is reasonably priced, except for Frank Sinatra. And he may have done the film at a smaller than usual fee to pay off for when he walked out of the studio's "Carousel."

"Now we come to 'Bon Hur.' Could it really have cost 15 million? It's big, all right. But it would seem a prodigious feat for any studio to spend that much on four hours of entertainment, character race or no character race. Remember that it was made in Italy, where costs are far lower than Hollywood's. A star who has worked on an Italian-made spectacle told me 'Hercules' cost less than $200,000."

As a matter of cold fact, what does a film's cost matter to the public? Epics like "Alexander the Great" and "Helen of Troy" can nose-dive while quickies like "Marty" and "Room at the Top" can make millions.

Detroit Has Segregation in Housing

DETROIT (AP) — "If a few belong to gentile clubs it's a sign he has been accepted" and he might be able to buy a home in the suburban Grosse Pointes, says Paul Maxon, secretary of the Grosse Pointe Brokers Assn.

Maxon testified Tuesday at a Michigan State Corporations and Securities Commission hearing on a point-system used in rating prospective home buyers in the exclusive Pointes.

The hearing was ordered by State Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams who said the point system was "morally corrupt." Maxon testified in its defense. A score of 50 is accepted as a standard passing grade. A Jew would require 85 points. Negroes and Orientals are not rated at all.

Maxon said a perfect score for both Jews and gentiles is 100 points, but added that the points are spread differently for Jews in order to give more emphasis on churches, clubs and business associations.

He said the scoring system was adjusted for Jews because "they represent a special problem."

Maxon said a Jew who Americanized his name would get a better score than one who hadn't. Eminent figures, regardless of nationality or race, might be allowed to move into the Pointes, Maxon said.

AMERICA'S FINEST

South Korea Fights Off Ship Attack

By GENE KRAMER

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A South Korean navy frigate today repelled a North Korean torpedo boat attack which the navy claimed was designed to cover an attempt to land Red agents.

The navy said the encounter was over in less than five minutes and the three attack craft fled into dense fog when the 1,200-ton frigate returned fire. The frigate suffered no crew casualties or material damage, a spokesman said. It was not known whether the attackers were hit.

The Reds attacked 15 miles off the east coast, about two miles south of the three demarcation lines separating North and South Korea, the navy said.

The navy communiqué expressed belief the Communists were trying to land spies or saboteurs in South Korea to "take advantage of the April 26 political upheaval."

Such naval clashes have taken place in the past, but it was the first Red attack since the uprising following the March 15 presidential elections forced the resignation of President Syngman Rhee.

The navy said it had increased its patrols off both the east and west coasts to block Red attempts to land agents behind the land frontier patrolled by South Korean and U.N. forces.

The navy also moved the northern boundary for east coast fishing three miles to the south to keep South Korean fishermen away from Communist attackers.

The North Koreans again demanded formally that United Nations forces get out of South Korea. The demand was made at a meeting of the military armistice commission called by the Reds at Panmunjom. The U.N. command as usual rejected the demand.

South Korean students paraded for the fourth straight day through the port city of Pusan demanding election of a new National Assembly. Two thousand high school pupils marched three miles, chanting slogans, until they were dispersed by troops at the City Hall Plaza. Tanks and armored cars were called up, but no violence was reported.

Agitation for demonstrations against the Assembly appeared subsiding in Seoul, and the caretaker government shoved the curfew in the capital back to midnight.

Huie May Direct Hardin Campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette said today that R.C. (Dick) Huie, Arkadelphia attorney, will manage the campaign of Joe C. Hardin of Grady for governor.

The Gazette, in a special dispatch from Washington where both Hardin and Huie are attending the national Chamber of Commerce convention, quoted Huie as saying the campaign would be "hard-hitting."

Hardin, a planter and businessman, is one of four men opposing Gov. Orval E. Faubus' try for a person's social prestige today preceded fourth term.

Hardin and Huie could not be reached in Washington today.

Cub Scout Pack Meeting Held

Cub Scout Pack No. 81 met on Thursday in the Elementary School cafeteria for their monthly pack meeting.

Den 4 opened the program with a flag service. O. J. Watkins acted as Scoutmaster and presented the following awards in Den 5: Jerry Brown, 2 year service pin; Mike Smith, 1 year pin and 1 gold arrow; Jackie Manizella, Mike Robertson and Ronnie Vandiver, 1 gold arrow.

In Den 6 Wolf Badges were presented to John McLelland, Jim Westmoreland, Al Martindale, Jerry Hubbard and Martin Foster who also received a deniers stripe.

The following slate of officers were elected for the organization: Granville Johnson, Cub Scoutmaster; Paul Harris, assistant Scoutmaster; Gilbert Westmoreland, treasurer; Karl King Jr.; H. C. Vandiver and Phillip Foster, committeemen.

There was an impressive Welcome ceremony held for Kenneth Formby, William Taylor, Bob Rouse, Walter Nelson, John Reynolds, Gary Stewart, Larry Jamison and Randy Grimes, as den chief Bobby Reynolds gave a summary of their three years work. The boys lit tapers to high light their advancement along the Cub Scout Trail.

In behalf of the parents and boys of den 1, Mrs. Jim Nelson presented den mother Mrs. Dudley Rouse and Mrs. Bob Reynolds and den chief Bobby Reynolds gifts as a token of appreciation for their work with the boys.

Den 3 entertained with a stunt in which the Cubs received some good practices with babies. The pack enjoyed several songs led by Mrs. Kenneth Formby.

Several tables of handicraft were on display that were made at the den meetings. Rev. J. H. Robertson voiced the closing prayer.

Mrs. Dalrymple Southern Pine Garden Club Speaker

Mrs. Carl Dalrymple was guest speaker at the April meeting of the Southern Pine Garden Club held in the home of Mrs. Jim Morris Thursday with Mrs. Wayne Jordan co-hostess. Mrs. Dalrymple gave an interesting and informative talk on "Pattern, Texture and Color."

Mrs. N. R. Nelson, president, called the meeting to order and led the club collect. During the business session, Mrs. D. L. McRae Jr., chairman of the nominating committee presented the slate of officers that were accepted:

President, Mrs. Dudley Rouse; first vice president, Mrs. J. H. Robertson; second vice president, Mrs. H. H. McKenzie; secretary, Mrs. Jim Morris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bill Gordon; Parliamentarian, Mrs. N. R. Nelson; and historian, Mrs. D. K. Bemis. Dainty refreshments were served from the dining table covered with a pale green cloth with a centerpiece of lavender iris in a silver bowl.

In the living room pincushies in an orange lacquered bowl was placed on the coffee table. Arrangements of iris were placed at other points of interest.

The Queensboro Bridge, which opened in 1900 to connect the boroughs of Manhattan and Queens in New York City, was built at a cost of 18 million dollars.

Voting Now Is Routine in Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's routine now.
Every year about this time Congress goes through a kind of self-torture examining the mutual security program, which used to be called foreign aid. Should it be continued? How much to give? How much to cut?
Then, regularly as a clock, it votes to continue the aid. Each year, too, just as regularly, Congress votes less money than President Eisenhower asked.
Congress is going through such a period now.
There is never any real danger that Congress might suddenly decide to abandon altogether the mutual security program which includes arms for allied nations, plus other kinds of aid for them and backward peoples.
This foreign aid program is now an accepted fact of American life. It was started 14 years ago when President Truman sent help to Greece and Turkey which felt themselves threatened by communism.
There is no end to it in sight. The problem for Eisenhower and the most earnest supporters of the program among Democrats and Republicans in Congress is to keep its critics there from chopping it to pieces by giving Eisenhower far less money than he asked.
There still is in this country, in and out of Congress, some strenuous but ineffective opposition to the size of the program which Eisenhower says is necessary.
Still, as the record shows, the majority opinion is for continuing the aid.
The amount Eisenhower requested this year — $4,175,000,000 — is far from a record request. Nevertheless, Congress will whittle it down a bit.
This is the picture for the past four years:
1956—Congress voted $3,766,570,000, or one billion dollars less than the President asked; 1957—he asked $4,400,000,000 but got $3,435,810,000; 1958—he asked $3,955,000,000, got $3,298,920,000; and in 1959 Congress gave him $3,225,815,000 of the $3,929,907,000 he requested.
One of the main complaints of the critics this year is that the program is being badly handled. Eisenhower tried to answer them—while attempting to stiffen the congressional backbone enough to give him close to what he asked—in a talk Monday night. He made a similar pitch last year.
The President, emphasizing that this help is important in stiff-arming communism around the world, said the amount he asked is the minimum necessary.
He pointed to some results of this "involvement with our neighbors": a 30-billion-dollar foreign trade for this country yearly; the importing of materials we don't have, like manganese, tin, natural rubber; and one-third of our iron ore.
To this trade, Eisenhower said, 4 1/2 million Americans owe their jobs. The point he tried to make was that this country, no longer able to stand alone, cannot withdraw into isolation again.
It's a point pretty well accepted by Congress for years.

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP) — A government source says the armed forces have routed all invaders from Paraguayan territory. The source said the government has completed its mopping up operations and is convinced all rebels who invaded Paraguay from Argentina last Friday have been killed or chased over the border.

BY FAITH BALDWIN

CHAPTER XXVI

Some nights later, she dreamed of Mark for the first time since August.

In her dream she was walking in the tunnel; she had never before this seen the tunnel; all these months it had been a symbol—her mind saying to her: This is like being in a tunnel. Now, she was in it, physically, but it was no longer black, as she'd thought it must always be, but a thick woolly gray which, as she walked, sometimes thinned out and sometimes closed in like fog, she thought, in her dream.

She was not alone. Mark was walking with her. He held her hand, his own folded over hers, sometimes he swung their hands a little. She could see him clearly. It did not astonish her (nothing in a dream amazes) that he was the young man she'd married. He looked as he had on their wedding day, quiet, happy, only slightly smiling, but his eyes brilliant with excitement.

He was talking to her and had been for some time, she realized, but only now did she understand what he was saying; as if she had come into a motion-picture theatre and it had taken her a few moments to pick up the dialogue from the screen.

"... a pretty good job," he was saying, "but you can do better."

"I'll try," she promised humbly. "Mark, did you know we're in a tunnel?"

"Oh, yes," he answered soberly. "That is, you are. Yet I walk with you in it, and you're walking faster now, Rose."

"I'm just trying to keep up with you."

He asked, "You know there are people outside?"

"Certainly, I always knew."

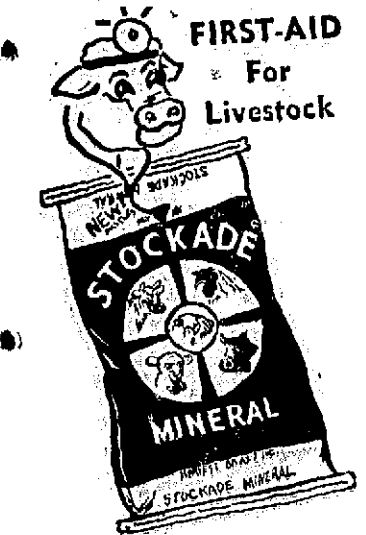

"Maybe," he suggested, "they are only outside your tunnel; they could be in their own."

Rose woke and the light at the east windows was gray gold. She tried to sleep again and return to her earlier dream; the one with which she had awakened had been, like most dreams, a shaken kaleidoscope.

She couldn't go back to sleep; she got up.

Dreams were dreams. What you didn't understand about them any psychiatrist—or even amateur psychologist—could explain.

Dreams rose from your subconscious mind (or too much to eat, or supper, or too little) or from sex or indigestion or hunger... They derived from your subconscious. They look you to the past and kept you in the present. They were expressions of frustrations and resentments. Rose had often dreamed of packing, trying to make a train—and Never making it. On it was all there, in the dreams.

She thought, There is a dream beyond a dream. She thought: If only I could always dream of Mark.

It was about nine when Mrs. James telephoned. She said, "I know the last time I spoke to you about volunteer work at the hospital you said you couldn't. I'm really desperate. Mrs. Holmes. Could you give us a few regular hours?"

"Well, I don't know," Rose answered doubtfully.

Mrs. James said, "The Admittance Office is short-handed; one girl's gone, and one is ill. If you could just give us a hand there, Mrs. Holmes?"

"But I don't think I'm qualified."

"Can you type?"

"After a fashion, not expertly, I'm afraid."

"All right. Could you work a few hours weekday afternoons?"

"When would you want me?"

Rose began.

"Today," said Mrs. James. "I'll meet you there at two."

She was at the hospital at two, furious with herself (and Mrs. James) every fool of the way. Mrs. James was grimly earnest, driving and driven. She herded Rose into the Admittance Office where the woman in charge had a pleasant face, which Rose had seen, vaguely, during the week Mark was hospitalized. She hadn't been on duty the night he was admitted.

Her name was Beatrice Collins. Mrs. James called her Bea. She was attractive, composed and, as no one could fail to see after 30 seconds, almost frighteningly competent. She had a low voice and a serene, searching regard and obviously was used to dealing with people beside themselves with terror or uncertainty.

So it was established that every week day Rose would come to the hospital from two until six.

"I think you're wonderful," said Ann Bailey, dropping in on an evening when Jim had to be in town, "knocking yourself out like this."

"I don't really," Rose said. The evening was cold and she'd set a match to the logs in the fireplace. There the flames whispered and lived with their own short secret lives. Shadows galloped across the walls. "It isn't hard, Ann, I was scared at first; this is the first time I've ever really worked anywhere."

"You haven't?" asked Ann, astonished. "I told you about the decorators' shop. I loved it. Actually I met Jim there. He came meandering in to match a sample for his mother—she hadn't moved away then—embarrassed and awkward. Right away, I thought: He's for me—but I'll never see him again."

"Obviously, you did."

"Thank heaven we didn't have anything to match but my boss was a go-getter, bless her. She sent him away with a promise; and later sent me, as fast as she could, with more samples, right to his mother's apartment and he happened to be there."

Chapter XXVII

After Ann had left, Rose thought of Pete. He was trying replacements in a way. She had heard about it from half a dozen people, including Dave, who worried. This replacement was a tall, cool blonde; vice president of an advertising agency, and divorced. Pete was seen places with her, and because he was Pete, and, in contrast to Dave or Mark, it crept into the columns.

She hadn't heard from him since the last time he'd come over, nor from Karen.

Pam and Harry had left for a world cruise. The children were old enough to shift for themselves, Pam said when she told Rose her plans. She added, "We'll have a good time. Harry likes people so much, and I've come to like them even when they bore me. This trip he won't have to worry. We've been away together so many times and most of the trips I saw things through a happy fog or a hangover. He was always covering up, apologizing, or just plain lying. The South American junket was a dry run—in more ways than one—so it's all right."

"Is it, truly, Pam?"

"Oh, yes. There are times when I—oh, you fight it out, now and then, but you have something to fight with—and I don't worry any more about blondes, redheads or brunettes. Because it all started with me. He had to have someone around who wouldn't let him down. I don't mean that they were girl scouts, but they didn't belong to him, and he had no need to cover up, apologize or lie..."

Christmas hurt her intolerably and Debbie and Tim knew. They didn't say anything. But knowing that they knew was helpful. Bluff, realizing that he had really been born so to speak at Christmas, when first he'd laid eyes on Tim, celebrated by thoughtfully crunching a bulb. They rushed him to the vet's, who pulled him through needed, for though the one girl had returned, after her illness, another had moved from the community.

Christmas or not, Rose went to work, actually she was more

She found Tim had changed a little, but then they always seem to change when you haven't seen them for a while. Debbie had defied. She now had a slight Southern accent and was a cross between a manicured hoyden of the Scarlett O'Hara type and Princess Margaret, for her roommate was London English, and Debbie's accent had broad A's. She was married in love with her physical teacher, but had also met someone else's brother who "had coffee" to a dance and was cool as lemon ice. "Terribly good in English," said Debbie, awed. "A senior in Stanford and though his family's practically descended from Midas, he's a Bealnik—sort of."

"With all that money?" asked her brother, very coarsely, Debbie thought.

She looked pained. She said, "Well, really, Mother, it isn't his fault that his people have just money!"

Tim had made up with Kate, he was with Bluff, he couldn't have been happier, except that he was worried.

When Debbie, as usual, was on the telephone, he said with great carelessness, "I know you'll fall into a swoon. Mom... I've a feather to burn in my pocket... I can work. I don't mean for a car; I mean, towards tuition."

"You don't have to, Tim."

"I know. But I could turn it over to you; you wouldn't have to go to the hospital every day."

"I'm not paid for it, dear, I do it because"—she hesitated and found herself telling the truth... "it hadn't been so, originally but it was now—because I want to."

Now and then she pushed a

Margaret Is Defying Superstition

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret is defying superstition and sticking with her wedding dress—despite the fact some of its details have been made public.

In Britain, bad luck is supposed to dog the bride who wears anything but a secret wedding gown.

Margaret's dress is hardly a secret. A U.S. trade journal, Women's Wear Daily, printed details of the bridal frock last week. The report said the dress was white silk organdy, monastic in its simplicity.

Sources close to the royal family said today the description was fairly accurate.

Margaret and her fiancé, Anthony Armstrong-Jones, were acquainted with the American report at Windsor Castle over the week-end.

As the first bright sun of the wedding week beamed on London this morning, the processional route—from Buckingham Palace and Clarence House to Westminster Abbey—began to assume an almost medieval look.

Fall masts, tipped by white and gold coronets, rose in stately procession along the beautiful mall leading to the palace.

The mall is a broad, leafy thoroughfare, stretching majestically between the Admiralty Arch at Trafalgar Square to Buckingham Palace.

Clarence House, Margaret's London home, stands just north of the mall.

Pipeline Companies Must Pay Damage

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three Arkansas pipeline companies must pay the state of Arkansas nominal damages for laying gas pipe lines from Clinton County across the Mississippi River or to the Mississippi state line, the state Supreme Court ruled today.

Ally, Gen. Bruce Bennett filed suits against the companies, seeking to force them to remove that portion of line on the Arkansas side of the river, but on ground that the work was done without state authority.

Big damages also were sought. "Chicot Circuit Court said it had no authority to order the pipe removed and awarded only nominal damages of $1,000 for each line crossing the river."

This amounted to $5,000 against Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., which has five lines; $1,000 against Trunkline Gas Co., with four lines; and $2,000 against American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., two lines.

The companies appealed, but the Supreme Court upheld the Circuit Court.

Justice Sam Robinson wrote the prevailing opinion. Justice Paul Ward dissented, and Justice George Rose Smith did not participate.

Fashionable Now to Have a Pet Fear

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you tired of your old fears, and looking for something new to be afraid of?

A person's social prestige today often depends upon what he is terrified by. You have to have a fashionable fear or none.

Some time ago I compiled a list of odd fears the possession of which should give anyone added standing in his community. Since then many readers have written asking for still more strange things to be frightened by.

So here are a few additional ideas to give you that scared feeling without which today no one seems to feel comfortable:

Does it make you feel blue to be alone? You are a victim of erotophobia and monophobia.

Do you hesitate to take a fourth martini at a cocktail party because you think someone may be watching? You have scopophobia, the fear of being looked at.

Do you dislike being kissed by your dear old moist-mouthed aunt? That's a sure sign of hydrophobia, or fear of dampness.

Many teenagers think life unbearable if they get a pimple on their nose. They are afflicted with dysmorphophobia, the fear of deformity.

Does your husband hate symphonic music? Does he watch nothing on television except westerns and private eye programs? The poor man deserves sympathy.

He's got a bad case of bathophobia, or fear of any kind of depth.

If a goldfish leaps at you, does it send you into a panic? You are undoubtedly an ichthyophobia, one who fears fish.

Does the rising cost of living give you the heebie-jeebies? My friend, you have come down with balophobia, or fear of high objects.

Do you get into a tantrum if someone puts sodas instead of branchwater into your bourbon? You have a clear case of molyssophobia, the fear of contamination.

Beatniks suffer a triple dread. They have chrematophobia (fear of money), hylophobia (fear of materialism) and—if the sight of a bathtub makes them tremble—hydrophobia (fear of water).

Do you worry over the prospect of a long visit by your relatives? This can safely be diagnosed as parasitophobia, the fear of parasites.

Do you dislike the idea of being promoted to a better job. You have both hypogynophobia (fear of responsibility) and ponophobia (fear of work). These are two of the most common fears in civilization.

Many bachelors are fugitives from marriage but don't know why. The answer is simple. Their ailment is pnicorophobia, the fear of smothering—or (taphephobia) the fear of being buried alive.

Does the threat of Communism appall you? It's likely you have erythrophobia, the fear of anything red.

But, if you're like most people, the thing you are afraid of most of all is that you'll get what's coming to you. That is good old dikkephobia—better known as the fear of justice.

Says State Needs to Sell Products

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marvin Melton, president of the Arkansas Chamber of Commerce, says Arkansas needs to sell its own people on its products and resources.

Melton discussed Arkansas, its assets and liabilities, last night at a dinner which the chamber gave honoring the state's congressional delegation.

As examples of what he had in mind he said Arkansas sent the bulk of its big soybean crop out of state for processing, some of its packing plants went out of state for cattle, and that Arkansans failed to buy Arkansas-made shoes.

Melton said Arkansas needs additional industry and that to continue to attract new industry the state needs ample water, a good tax system, a stable political climate and labor willing to provide an honest day's work for a fair day's pay.

A delegation of 24 from the Blytheville Chamber of Commerce won an award for having the largest group present.

Cecil Cupp, Hot Springs banker, introduced Melton.

Hays Discusses Cheap Electricity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Arkansas Rep. Brooks Hays, now a Tennessee Valley Authority director, says cheap electricity is important in helping the United States meet foreign competition in cars, fabrics and other manufactured items.

Hays said TVA has shown that low costs permit low rates and that low rates in turn help lower costs. He told the American Public Power Assn. yesterday that less stress should be placed on tariffs, quotas and other trade restrictions and more "toward positive goals."

Margaret's Presents Over Million

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — More than a million dollars' worth of fabulous wedding presents for Princess Margaret piled up today at St. James's Palace.

By the time she marries Antony Armstrong Jones Friday the value of gifts may be close to two million dollars, a court source said.

"Some of the gifts are so rare and unusual," he explained, "that it's impossible to put a price on them."

He referred to such presents as a 17th century pearl necklace from India that has been sent by Portugal's Count of Nova Goa.

It once belonged to the family of Dom Joao de Castro, a viceroy of India in 1560.

By early afternoon, more than 900 presents had arrived at the ancient palace which stands next door to Clarence House, Princess Margaret's London home.

The gifts are being kept at the palace because Clarence House wouldn't hold them all. Also, they're safer at the palace.

Scotland Yard took no chances for smash-and-grab handouts—as they call them here—have made several downtown raids in London lately.

In addition to a special guard inside the palace, extra men were on duty in the neighborhood.

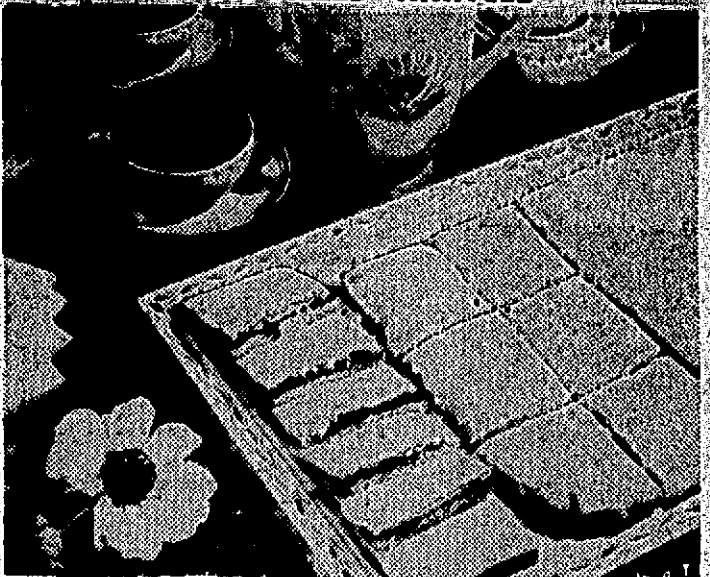

Uniformed guardsmen traditionally patrol the sidewalks around the palace, which is smack in downtown London.

Meantime, the betrothed couple went through a final rehearsal today of the wedding at Westminster Abbey. They went through their first rehearsal last Thursday. Monday they had stand-ins at a full-scale rehearsal.

The morning rehearsal lasted two hours. Time and again Margaret and Tony went through certain parts of the ceremony.

The royal honeymoon yacht Britannia steamed majestically up the Thames through early morning fog and anchored in the shadow of the Tower of London. The Britannia will take the couple on a five-week cruise in the West Indies.

NOW'S THE TIME TO BAKE FRUIT-FILLED KRINGLE

Kringle is a sweet bread that looks and tastes like fruit-filled cookies. It's made of thin layers of sweet yeast-raised dough put together with a prune-and-lemon combination, and topped off prettily with a simple sugar frosting. Now's the time to bake Kringle for two reasons. One, it will add new flavor and interest to party refreshments, especially for showers, brunches and afternoon teas. Second, it's possible to buy both yeast and flour in the same package right now—there's one package of yeast in the five-pound and ten-pound bags and two in the twenty-five and fifty-pound sacks; so that buying them together is both convenient and economical.

KRINGLE

- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup warm, not hot, water
- 1 package or cake Yeast, active dry or compressed
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 1/2 cups chopped cooked prunes
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 3 tablespoons sugar

Scald milk; cool to lukewarm. Mix together the 1/4 cup sugar, salt and flour. Cut in shortening. Measure water into bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk. Add egg and flour mixture; stir until well blended, about 2 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush top with soft shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 30 minutes. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide in half. Roll out each half into an oblong about 16 x 12 inches. Place one oblong on large greased baking sheet. Spread with mixture of prunes, lemon juice, lemon rind and the 3 tablespoons sugar. Cover with other oblong of dough. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 350° F. about 20 minutes. When cool, frost with Plain Icing made by combining 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 tablespoon milk and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. To serve, cut into 2 x 4-inch pieces. Makes 24 servings.

U. S. Sub Is Bombarded in Australia

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—University students bombarded the U.S. atomic submarine Halibut with firecrackers Tuesday night and held two American sailors in a dog house for ransom.

The Halibut is here with the U.S. cruiser Canberra for the annual anniversary observance of the Battle of the Coral Sea. Two years ago students boarded the U.S. carrier Bennington, here on the same mission, and brought the crew to action stations by setting off the general alarm.

Tuesday night the youths rigged a catapult of bicycle tubes overlooking the Halibut's berth and started to bombard at long range with five-cent firecrackers.

All the shots fell short, nobody was hurt, and the students fled with local police in pursuit.

Then a telegram arrived at the Canberra demanding one shilling (11 cents) from each of the 85 officers and 1,350 enlisted men aboard to ransom two kidnapped American sailors, Dick Jamieson of Michigan and Rex Leard from Texas.

(University students are collecting money today to help finance the Australian Olympic team's trip to Rome.)

Two good looking girls had "accidentally" met Jamieson and Leard in the city and invited them to look over the university. On the campus male students pounced on the sailors, locked them in an outside dog kennel in the veterinary school and called in newspaper photographers.

After sending the telegram to the cruiser, the kidnappers took their captives off to a party.

Leard and Jamieson were back on the Canberra before their leave passes expired at 11 p.m. The cruiser's duty officer refused to say if the ransom had been paid. He would not give the home towns of the two sailors.

Osteopaths Adopt a Resolution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Osteopathic Assn. of Physicians and Surgeons has adopted a resolution urging the Legislature to appropriate adequate funds for the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

The resolution was considered unusual because the University Medical School does not give a degree in osteopathy and because osteopaths and physicians who are members of the American Medical Assn. have not always been in agreement.

Dr. P.W. Lecky of El Dorado was elected association president to replace Dr. Malcolm G. Taylor. Little Rock segregationist leader, who was chosen president-elect last year but resigned. Under usual procedure Dr. Taylor would have assumed office as president this year.

Dr. R. H. Mount of Siloam Springs was named president-elect as the association wound up its annual convention yesterday. Dr. R. M. Parker of Rogers is secretary-treasurer.

Of Texarkana have entered. Additional entries may be received until Friday.

This Is Year Voters Get Confused

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the year when voters get more confused than usual. Tuesday's little set-to between President Eisenhower and the Democratic-run Congress was just the beginning.

In this presidential and congressional election year "each" party will claim the other did the wrong things or not enough of the right ones. It's a rare voter who will know enough of the details to be sure who's right.

Tuesday Eisenhower did a double job with a special message to Congress urging action on a variety of programs he had plugged for earlier.

He was legitimately trying to build a fire under Congress. But his message will also serve as a campaign document for Republicans to use against the Democrats later in the campaign.

"They can say: 'Seem these are the things Eisenhower stood for but the Democrats wouldn't listen. Don't blame Eisenhower; blame the Democrats.'"

Eisenhower had validity in complaining this Congress wasn't doing enough.

So far this year Congress has passed only one major piece of legislation: the civil rights bill.

By the end of the first week in May in the past presidential election year—1956—Congress, run by Democrats then as well as now, had passed at least eight important legislative items.

In each of the past three years, by the first week in May, Congress had pushed through at least three or four major measures.

About the only excuse the Democrats have this year for their slow performance is the delay caused by passage of the civil rights bill which involved among other things, weeks of a Southern filibuster.

By this time in 1957—a year in which Congress also passed a civil rights bill—it had enacted three major pieces of legislation.

There's a gimmick explaining the difference.

In 1957 Congress didn't put through the civil rights bill until toward the end of its session; this year it worked on civil rights first.

Although Eisenhower egged the Democrats on to pass his various proposals, the Democrats don't agree with all of them and, in the end, will probably pass—on those they do pass—their own versions.

There is so much hair-splitting on these differences, so many details, so much political jockeying, that few people besides the politicians could possibly know who's wrong, who's right.

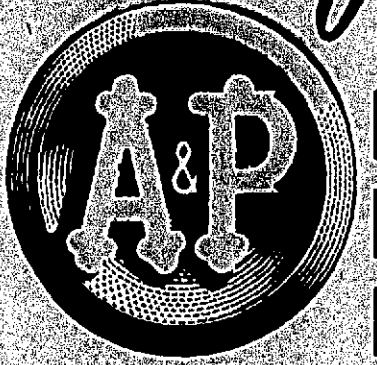

This is why campaign politicians can talk so convincingly, or seem to.

New Charge Hurdled by Bennett

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett has added a new charge to his criticism of the administration of Gov. Orval B. Faubus—that of allegedly cutting expenses of state troopers.

Bennett fired off the new blast yesterday, several hours after he had said that the state's declining population indicated the Faubus administration's industrialization efforts had failed.

The attorney general, one of four candidates opposing Faubus' bid for a fourth term, said that despite mounting revenues, monthly expense allowances of lower grade state troopers had been reduced by $10 to $20.

He said the troopers were told this was an economy move but "this type of economy doesn't agree with previous administration statements that all appropriations this year would be met in full."

State Police Director Herman Lindsey declined to comment.

Bennett also criticized the method of buying State Police cars by taking bids. He said he favored a system which would allow each trooper to buy the car of his choice from a dealer in his area with not more than $400 cash plus trade-in.

Escapee Returned to State Prison

GRADY, Ark. (AP)—John Easton, 37, was back in custody at Cummins Prison Farm today after an escape attempt which failed when his horse bogged down.

Prison officials said Easton, serving a 15-year sentence from Mississippi County for larceny, tried to cross the Arkansas River on horseback, but the animal stalled in mud. Easton was on foot when he was captured Monday night.

Grade School to Hold Track Meet

TEXARKANA (AP) — Contenders from elementary schools in the Texarkana area will compete in a big track and field meet Saturday in connection with the observance to Youth Fitness Week.

It'll be Junior Champ Day sponsored by the Texarkana Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A king and queen of Junior Champ Day will be selected on the field from a contest of Youth Fitness activities: Push-ups, sit-ups, pull-ups, broad jumps and baseball throws.

There will be separate track and field events for boys and girls from the fifth and sixth grades and two special events for third and fourth graders: The 35-yard dash and tug of war.

The winning school will get a trophy.
